AI SUMMARY

The pharmaceutical and healthcare industry is experiencing significant corporate activity, with multiple leadership appointments (Mikart's new CEO), strategic acquisitions (Codis acquiring Catalent's UK facility, Splash Beverage Group obtaining global rights to epilepsy therapy CANNEPIL®), and regulatory approvals (AbbVie's TEPKINLY® approved by European Commission for follicular lymphoma treatment). Several major companies including Bausch Health, CVS Health, West Pharmaceutical, and Genomma Lab have announced upcoming Q2 2026 earnings calls, while clinical-stage companies are advancing their pipelines through regulatory consultations and presenting novel data at international conferences. Market research highlights substantial growth projections in neurotechnology (expected to exceed $50 billion by 2034) and expanding treatment landscapes for rare diseases like Fuchs Endothelial Corneal Dystrophy and ALS.
